

IOSH Safety for Executives and Directors

The IOSH Safety for Executives and Directors Online course equips CEOs and Directors with comprehensive knowledge of their health and safety duties, highlighting the ethical, legal, and financial advantages of active engagement in safety, health, and risk management practices.

Who is the course for?

This course is tailored for individuals in senior executive or director positions who wish to enhance their understanding of health and safety principles. It aims to equip these eager learners with the necessary protocols and knowledge to effectively lead and influence any organization.

Benefits for Learners

- Grasp your obligations regarding health and safety in the workplace.
- Acknowledge the significance of incorporating health and safety goals and strategies.
- Facilitate the comparison of your performance against others and discern best practices from comparable businesses.
- Define your vision for health and safety and determine the steps to realize it.

Benefits for Employers

- Rest assured that your top-tier employees possess a thorough knowledge of safe management practices.
- Foster enhancements in productivity, elevate profitability, and instigate cultural transformation.
- Elevate your brand's reputation through superior health and safety standards.

Course Key Facts

Duration: 4 hours recommended learning time, 2 hours optional self-study

Course Content

The course is structured around five key modules:

1. The moral, legal and financial case
2. Plan – planning for health and safety
3. Do – implementing health and safety
4. Check – monitoring health and safety performance
5. Act – improving health and safety performance

Assessment

It involves a personal commitment (action plan) relating to the learning on the course. Identify three actions that you commit to taking in your workplace appropriate to your level of responsibility. On successful completion of the action plan, you will receive an official IOSH digital certificate.